

CHICKENS

Chickens

The RSPCA Education Centre has a variety of chickens. These chickens arrived at our RSPCA shelter as stray or surrendered pets.

Our chickens are 'free-range', spending their days roaming the paddock, but are shut in the barn at night to keep them safe from foxes, dogs, and feral cats.

Look around the barn and find the battery hen cage. Battery hens are kept in these cages 24 hours a day, cannot express natural behaviours and have greatly reduced life spans.

Which way would you rather live?
