

LUCY GOOSE

Goose

Lucy has been living at the RSPCA since the early 1990s. She was surrendered as part of a flock, but it was soon discovered that Lucy didn't like the company of other geese. In fact, Lucy preferred the company of our horses.

Lucy especially liked Jock, an older horse, and they were the best of friends for over 15 years until Jock passed away in 2008.

To keep Lucy safe from foxes, dogs and feral cats, she is kept in the barn at night. During the day, she waddles around the paddock, hanging out with the ponies and the cows.
